Physical Literacy: Playing in the Leaves

Literacy Corner

EarlyON Bookshelf

Learning to count can be more enjoyable with the right books! The book, One Gray Mouse by Katherine Burton has rhyming words and simple text for little ones. This book can help children learn colours, animals, and the numbers from one to ten. You and your child can also enjoy searching for the little gray mouse who is hiding from page to page. A nice follow-up activity to this book could be our storyboard or featured activity. You could also try collecting ten items of different colours from around your home and have some fun with colours and counting!

Activities Online and At Home

Connecting families in Windsor-Essex by providing engaging activities. Please visit [W.E. EarlyON to You: Online and Pre-Recorded Activities](http://W.E. EarlyON to You: Online and Pre-Recorded Activities) for great ideas and activities to do with your children. Check back regularly for updates!

FEATURED ACTIVITY:

A House for Mouse

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Small to medium size rock of choice
- Variety of plastic cups, containers or boxes
- Permanent marker

WHAT TO DO NEXT:

1. Using a permanent marker, decorate the rock to create a 'mouse rock'.
2. Place your mouse rock into various size containers.
3. Discover which container would be the best home for your mouse rock.
4. Decorate your mouse's house if you wish!

EarlyON Storyboard: Country Mouse

Follow along as we learn about living in the city and living in the country!
