Literacy Corner

EarlyON Bookshelf

It is important to reflect and think about what fills your heart with happiness. Is it the sun on your face or the smell of warm bannock baking in the oven? The book My Heart Fills With Happiness by Monique Gray Smith serves as a reminder for families to appreciate the simple joys in life. Books are a great resource for teaching and encouraging young children to think about what brings them happiness. A nice follow-up activity to this book could be preparing your own bannock together at home. Enjoy the smell while you talk about the origin of bannock. Continue to do the simple things with your child that fill YOUR hearts with happiness!

Activities Online and At Home

Connecting families in Windsor-Essex by providing engaging activities. Please visit W.E. EarlyON to You: Online and Pre-Recorded Activities for great ideas and activities to do with your children. Check back regularly for updates!

FEATURED ACTIVITY:

Fall Tree Thumbprints

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Paper or cardstock
- Small sticks found outside
- Fall coloured paint
- Tape

WHAT TO DO NEXT:

1. Collect several small sticks from your yard or on a walk.
2. Arrange the sticks on a piece of paper to resemble a tree trunk. Secure the sticks with the tape.
3. Dip your thumb or the tip of your finger into the paint.
4. Dab your painted finger onto the paper to create a fall design.
5. Let nature guide your creativity.

EarlyON Kitchen: Pumpkin Dip
