Bug Hunt

Read a book about bugs or search the internet for pictures of bugs that are common in your area, such as ants and ladybugs. Talk about the bug's characteristics and where you might find them outdoors. Gather tools you can use to help you search for the bugs, such as a magnifying glass. Once you are ready, set off on a bug hunt together. Identify, examine, and talk about all of the bugs you find. Imagine where they are heading to next!
