Babies and Board Books

Make board books easily accessible for your baby. Keep board books amongst your baby's toys and in your daily travel bag. Board books are durable. Your baby can hold them, play with them, practice turning the pages, and might even try chewing on them. Offering board books and making story time a part of your daily routine will help your baby learn to enjoy reading. It will also give your baby opportunities to hear many new words. Try introducing board books with high-contrast images, pictures of other babies, and touch and feel textures!

Activities Online and At Home

Connecting families in Windsor-Essex by providing engaging activities. Please visit W.E. EarlyON to You: Online and Pre-Recorded Activities for great ideas and activities to do with your children. Check back regularly for updates!

FEATURED ACTIVITY:

Lacing Activity

WHAT YOU WILL NEED:

- Paper/Card stock
- Markers/Coloured printer
- Scissors
- Handheld hole punch
- Yarn/Pipe cleaners

WHAT TO DO NEXT:

1. Draw or print a picture or shape of your choice.
2. Cut out your picture.
3. Punch holes along the edges of the shape. Keep some space along the border to avoid the paper from tearing. The number of holes and spacing is entirely up to you.
4. Play time! Show your child how to get the yarn through the hole and watch them lace.
5. Have fun using different colours of yarn or pipe cleaners.
6. Save your picture to practice lacing over and over again.
